Powering Compliance & Savings

What is 340B?

The 340B Drug Discount Program was created in 1992 by the federal government, and requires drug manufacturers to provide significant discounts for outpatient drugs to eligible healthcare organizations, also known as “covered entities.” The program is designed to provide financial benefits to covered entities that serve low-income and uninsured patients. This enables them to expand healthcare services to better serve their communities, and to improve access to more affordable medications for their low-income and uninsured patients.

How Does It Work?

340B is a complex program and SUNRx simplifies program administration for covered entities. This is our sole focus, and we keep our covered entities informed and current with ongoing regulatory changes that are accompanied by an intense audit focus.

SUNRx: Powering Compliance & Savings

Covered entities work closely with 340B administrators such as SUNRx to manage their 340B programs and to help ensure compliance with federal regulations.

As a compliance-focused 340B administrator, SUNRx helps covered entities maximize 340B programs so they can expand access to affordable medications and healthcare services for low-income and uninsured patients. SUNRx delivers a hands-on approach, and provides industry-leading program design, implementation, regulatory expertise, and unparalleled customer support.

SUNRx is backed by the integrated strength of its parent company MedImpact Healthcare Systems, Inc., a trend-focused pharmacy benefit manager (PBM) that provides real-time claims processing connected to a cash program. An integrated program allows you to adjudicate cash prescription claims so you can pass along savings to low-income and uninsured patients, as well as process 340B claims for all of your patients to help you maximize your program.
