

Help Shape the Future of Los Angeles' Health Care Workforce

Join UNITE-LA's Health Sector Collaborative, a growing network of health care employers, education partners and workforce leaders working together to strengthen the region's talent pipeline and expand equitable career opportunities.

Through the collaborative, members help:

- Address critical workforce challenges and emerging talent needs
- Align education and training pathways with industry demand
- Create meaningful opportunities for the next generation of health care professionals
- Build partnerships that support a stronger, more diverse health care workforce

As a member of HASC, you're receiving a personal invitation to join the table of health care leaders at our next Health Sector Collaborative.

Upcoming Meeting

Oct. 6, 2026 | 1 p.m. | Zoom

Ready to get involved? E-mail Aaron Smith-Knight, Director Employer Relations at UNITE-LA to join the conversation shaping the future of health care in Los Angeles.

Current members who are already on our contact or interest list will automatically receive calendar invitations.

About UNITE-LA

Over the past 28 years, UNITE-LA has been a trusted business intermediary, dedicated to supporting the development of an effective local public education system, so that all children and youth succeed in college, career and beyond. Through the intersection of programming, policy, and systems change efforts, UNITE-LA works to increase access to high-quality early childhood education, develop career pathways in high-growth industries, improve college access and success, and ensure workforce readiness, especially for individuals with high barriers into the workforce.
